About

As an ideator and artist, Emily continues her performing career worldwide – from Carnegie Hall to the Santa Fe Opera to the Chautauqua Opera. She is a founding member of the international performing trio Women on the Verge (WOV), which is dedicated to advocating for women-centered stories.

Awarded a Fulbright U.S. Scholar Award to work, research, and teach at The Royal Conservatoire in The Hague, Netherlands, for 2022-2023, Emily is co-founder of em2CONNECT, a small creative consulting practice specializing in rebranding, repositioning, and promoting flexible thinking around artistic careers for artists. As the inaugural Faculty Fellow for the Pericelli-Gegnass Center for Entrepreneurship & Innovation at Bucknell University, Emily works to support the constant evolution of the 21st-century artist.

As a lifelong educator and registered yoga teacher, Emily has taught master classes worldwide and led workshops in arts entrepreneurship, voice work, and musician-specific movement worldwide.
